A NOTE FROM THE AUTHORS...

Writing Social Psychology allowed us both to remember with nostalgia the theorists that had awakened our interest in Social Psychology. As we crafted their story within the context of our world today Lewin, Bandura, Milgram, Fiske, Kelley, and Kahneman were like beloved personal teachers guiding our way. We also wanted to connect students to the pivotal work of researchers and teachers today knowing that our peers and mentors will inspire the next generations of students—just like our predecessors inspired us to share Social Psychology with the world.

—Tom & Wind

OUR GENEALOGY OF SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY TREE